

Along the Waterfront

Not until Thursday, September 19, will the Big Four squadron get away for the Coast, for Admiral Dayton, commander of all the Pacific fleet, has set that as the earliest date of departure, so there are nearly two weeks more of the stay of the navy boys in this port, and their stay means at least $100,000 expenditure in Honolulu for what-nots and incidentals, and food for the vessels of the squadron. It is estimated that each of the vessels of the squadron, the West Virginia, the Pennsylvania, the Maryland and the Colorado, is paying off while here to the extent of about $14,000 and this amount is spent by the men of each vessel in miscellany and nonsense, that is to say, things to eat and drink; things to eat for the reason that a sailor always likes to get something different ashore and feels the appetite of his new surroundings as soon as he lands; and things to drink, necessarily for the reason that aboard ship, on duty, he cannot drink to the extent of being as happy as he can be ashore where he has no responsibility until his shore-liberty expires.

Whether there be plague in San Francisco or not, as far as present orders are concerned, the vessels of the Big Four will go to Mare Island, where the 105 short term men will be discharged. It is then possible that the squadron will go to Bremerton where the four vessels will be put in dry-dock and generally overhauled to be in readiness to join the Atlantic fleet early next year. Then they will all come to Hawaiian waters to maneuver and evolve, and the people of these Islands are sure to see a great deal more of them, for these Islands constitute the most strategic position of all the Pacific Ocean.

There was a very pretty ceremony aboard the flagship West Virginia last evening at 4:30 o'clock, when the P. M. S. S. Korea sailed for San Francisco, for as the passenger liner passed astern of the squadron's flagship, en route to the Coast, the band of the West Virginia played a farewell tune in honor of Honorable and Mrs. Longworth who were guests at the last moment at the Seaside Hotel and therefore were among the last to leave the beach for the steamer.

INDIANA GETS AWAY.

The Barneson-Hebbard S. S. Indiana, Captain Graham, sailed for Vancouver, B. C., last night at 8:20 o'clock, with a little over 300 Japanese emigrants, a few of whom were secured from the P. M. S. S. Korea which arrived from the Orient yesterday morning. A few cabin passengers were also taken. The Indiana was to have sailed on Thursday at 1 p. m., then her departure was deferred until noon of yesterday, at which hour she had not cleared in the custom house. At noon yesterday her cabin passengers were aboard and their friends were on the wharf to say good-bye, but they had a long time to wait before they saw the last of their friends. The Indiana will not return here. She is now going into the Nome trade, after having lost slightly on her venture of taking away Japanese from Hawaii. Nearly all those Japanese who arrived in the S. S. Korea from the Orient yesterday morning declared it as their intention to work on the plantations here.

HAWAII COUNTY HAS ITS FREAKS

HILO, September 6.—At their second day's session the Supervisors of the County of Hawaii continued their policy of hampering the police force by refusing to allow Sheriff Keolani to purchase two dozen handcuffs until Clerk Pua had ascertained what they would cost. This means a delay of a month before he can report to the next meeting and then a delay of probably two weeks before they can be secured. In the meantime prisoners may escape as the Honolulu murderer did when the sheriff had to wait for more than a month before he was allowed to offer a reward for the man's capture.

Yesterday, tools were purchased for the use of the prisoners who left for the volcano this morning, and the pay of two guards was authorized and the men appointed. No action was taken, however, on Governor Frear's suggestion that permission be secured from the Bishop estate to build the road over its property.

Without notice to the road workers, their pay for July for work done was reduced from $1.50 to $1.25 a day in North and South Kohala and in Kau. Purdy made the remark that their pay was regulated by Territorial law, and Kalaiwaa said they were getting plenty, facts that the laborers should not forget when the next election time comes.

Correspondence from Agent Bowman of the Board of Health induced by the visit of Dr. Currey, caused prompt action in authorizing the construction of culverts, drains, catch basins and the walling up of a ditch of running fresh water. Dr. Currey's uniform had considerable effect while he was here, and there was not a moment's discussion or delay over the resolution to "clean house."

Shipman made an effort to muzzle the press by a motion to refuse news, but it failed. He was annoyed at some published remarks about a road roller that had been delivered to his order in Kau and which, he declared the newspaper to have said was delivered in the Pacific ocean and was still there. Later Shipman moved that the County Clerk be authorized to purchase tickets to a concert and dance, given last night, for each of the Supervisors and the two press representatives. The motion was promptly seconded by one of Shipman's political opponents on the Board and much to his disgust, he found himself compelled to vote for the motion, which was lost by 4 to 3.

Mr. and Mrs. London will arrive this afternoon to be the guests of the Baldwins at Wainaka. For a few days they have been staying at the Louissou coffee plantation at Pauilo.

NAVIGATOR RETURNS LAME

Marion Chilcott, but that vessel had not arrived from Honolulu.

The Navigator, therefore, designed expressly for a tandem-tow, had to be satisfied with getting away with the Monterey alone.

"I have orders to look for the Chilcott," said Captain McGoldrick last night when seen by an Advertiser reporter, "and that is one of the reasons why this break in the machinery could not have come at a more inopportune time. Just before I left Honolulu last Friday I received word that the Marion Chilcott was still being looked for and for the Navigator to keep a sharp lookout for her and take her in tow whenever she could be found."

"Oil is wanted urgently here and this boat was put on this run expressly to tow two vessels. I believe there was a flaw in the valve stem that broke and I suppose I should be thankful that the accident did not happen when we were farther out. As it is the Honolulu Iron Works will be able to repair the damage and I guess we will be away again by Thursday morning. We left the tow, the Monterey, off port, where she will lie until we pick her up going out. We will fill up with oil for fuel while in port, for you see we have been making a four days' hole in our supply."

Captain Berg of the Monterey was brought ashore in the Navigator.

When the Navigator was seen off port last night she was taken for an island steamer and little attention was paid to her. It was not known that she had returned until the watchman at the pilot house recognized the double-stacker as she passed into the harbor. McGoldrick is an expert seaman and navigator and commands the finest tug ever seen in these waters. He got his tow to port in splendid time considering the accident to the machinery.
